

HEIRLOOM SEED PROJECT

Established thirty years ago at the Landis Valley Village & Farm Museum, the Heirloom Seed Project focuses on seed preservation. We grow and save seeds from heirloom varieties of vegetables, many with historical significance for Pennsylvania Germans since the 1700's.

The Heirloom Seed Project is staffed primarily by volunteers who tend the gardens and preserve and package the heirloom seeds.

Heirloom or open-pollinated fruit brings our history into the present with flavors and beauty from the past. Unlike hybrid plants, gardeners can save seeds from heirloom varieties with the assurance that the fruit from each new generation of plants will bear fruit true to the fruit from the past seasons.

HERB AND GARDEN FAIRE

May 11 & 12, 2018 9:00 AM—5:00 PM

"Heirloom Tomatoes, Flowers and Herbs". A profusion of plants transforms Landis Valley into a gardener's paradise at this annual outdoor sale that benefits the Heirloom Seed Project. Over 80 vendors offer a wide variety of plants that include natives, heirlooms, herbs, vegetable plants and more.

Tools and garden-inspired crafts are also available.

DONATIONS

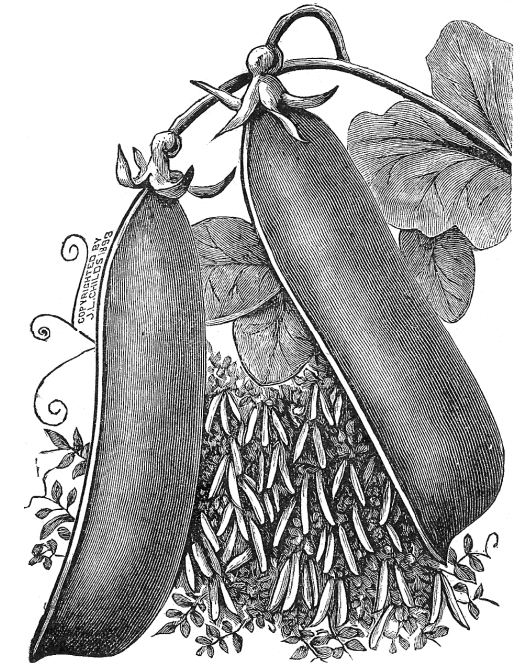

Donations are greatly appreciated. The generosity of persons like yourself directly enhances the work of the Heirloom Seed Project.
